In The Community

The MC is happy to collaborate with various community organizations and businesses.

If you know of an organization or business that would like to support or collaborate with the MC, have them reach out to us at astateMC@astate.edu.

Wrap - Up

Last week was a busy one for the MC. We had a wonderful lecture on Gender Expression with T.J. Jourian, you can read more about that below. We also co-sponsored, with the Office of Diversity, Stop In The Name Of Love, a panel on domestic violence. We then had the pleasure of attending Mortified, where we listened to lots of funny stories and enjoyed a sneak preview of the new Mortified TV series. Each event was informative, and adds to diversity education at A-State.

EVENT SPOTLIGHT

On October 17, 2017, at 6pm there was a LGBT+ and Gender Identity lecture held in the Mockingbird Room of the student union by Dr. TJ Jourian. Dr. Jourian informed students and faculty about the stigmas and ways to erase those stigmas surrounding the LGBT+ community. There were about 35 individuals in attendance and feedback indicated that attendees enjoyed the event.

Student Spotlight

Q & A with Jasmine

What is your goal as part of the MC?

My goal is to spread awareness across campus on the various ethnic groups to promote unity.

What is a fun fact about you?

I am the ninth African-American to be elected Homecoming Queen at Arkansas State University.

This week's Student Spotlight is Jasmine Okafor. You may know her as A-State's 2017 Homecoming Queen! Jasmine is our Multicultural Center Ambassador Events Coordinator. She is a member of Alpha Kappa Alpha, NPHC, A-State Reps, and is also an A-State Cheerleader. She is currently a Senior studying Biology/Pre-Med. Her Career goal is to become a Psychiatric Physicians Assistant, an advocate for mental health and professor.
